Depending on the complexity of the project these prices are open for negotiation. And if you have special format/length needs, just let us know and we'll work something out!

Our recommendation if your game is launching on multiple platforms is to order a 1:00 - 1:30 minute version together with the iTunes formats. This includes a 1:00 - 1:30 FullHD version plus a cut down 30s version with all the required formats for iTunes app previews, all for $1250.

Additional info

All prices include revisions after each draft (within reason) based on your feedback.

We can either work with game footage that you provide or we can record it ourselves. Keep in mind that for us to record the footage you must provide us with the game and it will take longer to complete the trailer.

For the best results, we ask that you give us as much art as possible from your game. Concept art, animations, logos, music, etc. Almost anything can help take the trailer to the next level!

This document is just for your reference. We'll answer any questions you have personally and in detail. :)
